THE STATE FAIR REQUIRES AT-ROITKAT

Much as the attention of the people is occupied over politics, their domestio affairs should not be permitted to go without the attention they require to make them a success. In the domestic business of the people is the greatuess of a state or of a nation. When industry is neglected, or rermitted to go without care by the industrious, the state is in a war that leads to decay of all the better condions that bring prosperity and happi-

Nevada's State Fair is one of the matters that demands public attention because it is pre-sminently a public institution insended to lustruct in depariments that represent and contain the most material principles that are included in intestrial improvement and in the development of wealth among the people. The problem there is before the people for their solution ie: Will she fair receive the care and artention it merits, or will it be per mitted to go uncared for by those who should take a leading part in securing Lis engrees #1

There is a disposition by muny to neclect it as a metter of no courseadt to arioth tempisied edt ni conerp State. It may be those who have so condinied bere not given the matter the though, it should receive in conmedical with the development of the State's industries and general busimais. In conversation with business men about the necessite there is nuon the people to aid in making the State fair all it should be as an advertisement of the superior natural wealth there is in the State, an objection to larger quantities as the work properly made to the fair upon the theory that He brought with him several specimen all the energy and money there is subscribed, denoted or appropriate? is being piled on the dumps as it is taken expended at the race track, under cover of an industrial fair for the exhibiti in of products of the State.

There is a manifest neglect of eti oi viel ent tant atnematrqub ila inception was intended to build up and foster. The Jouanal knows when and faster. The Journal knows when the happenings had opportunity to examine them. When facts are before it for a conc.uclon upon them, it claims to be able to ascertain the cause for the existence of the facts andito make the conclusion News of All the Counties in the required.

In the matter of the State fair there is no reason in opposition to a just conclusion on the facts about which complaint is made. The proper mode of disposing of the objections made in connection with the fair is to admit them to be true. Those who make the objections mentioned may not consider they are to blame for the exist. next month.-Silver State. ence of the facts they state as objections to having anything to do with the fair.

Those who are interested in racing active in owing for their department, and it is perhaps true they are in a position to control the larger part of the funde; but there is a remedy for those who are not inverested in racing since that act legalizing their dedirectly or interested in any way with that department, which is by making their wants known to the board of

The time has past when the will of one man or a few men control State Pairs, and it should be known that there is no disposition to control by anyone to the exclusion of the rights evidently; for a real live stream of of others. Harein is displayed approval to sauh exhibitor to the full extent of the means at their disposel.

Do not dwell upon the past, try the present, and learn there is a change in the direction of fair business by men who are aware that the fair is an institution of the people, for the people and that it should be condor' - agriculturiets and artisans .as care of their department and

There is no cause at this writing in opposition to making the best fair exnibit there has been made in the S atc. there is not an opposition cause to prevent an advertisement of the State's wealth as it has not been made known to the world from the beginning of the commonwealth. The State is no more on a down grade in its business departments. It has changed and the people know and feel the change for the bettering of business and their meterial intersets, whi he hould te nade known by the best exhibit that nas been made in the State.

The management invites the people to do their part of the work to make a fair worthy of a Stale that has to superior on the earth in natural wealth, and they will try to do their part of the work to the satisfaction of each exhibitor who will aid to place the State where it belongs through to 6 development and adver isement of its resources. What is needed is work connected with a spirit to excell in a departments embject to exhibition at the fair. Allies Thundering at Pekin.

Special to the JOURNAL.

LONDON, August 15 .- According to a dispatch from Shanghai the allied army is thundering at the gates of Peking. The dispatches say also that the Chinese official news confirms the report of the arrival of the army at Peking.

An official statement was made in the House of Commons today that England has prepared land troops at Shanghai to protect the British interests and it was stated that the government would dare all in an endeavor to uphold the rights of Britons. This is virtually in defiance of the powers.

For sixty long days she will not be "at home" to any visitors excepting the Chinaman, who conveys lancheon to il birds, and a chance call from one of the enforcers of the law.

Looted a Caboose.

Last night a light-fingered vag took idvantage of an unsuspecting caboose that had been temperarily abandoned by conductor and brakies of an eastbound freight. The crook proved to be an expert at "lifting," for scarcely a moveable article of any value escaped hia sack.

No clew could be found at last reports, but the officers were busily engaged in ravelling out the mystery and bone to run down the guilty man before be elopes with his spoils.

John Murray Happy.

The Gazette force has been increased. much to the elation of John Murray.

The extra member arrived in the shape of a bouncing baby boy, and John says he will be a valuable addition to the noted Gazette quartette. We extend congratulations to those most concerned in this event.
